Our Purpose

In an effort to further internationalize and strengthen its educational and research functions, the Graduate School of Science (GSS) at Osaka Metropolitan University has established master's and doctoral courses offered entirely in English. GSS welcomes a wide range of international students to apply. The application guidelines are provided below.

Admissions Policy

〈Master's Course〉

The Graduate School of Science aspires to develop professionals capable of applying their advanced research abilities, research experience, and rich academic knowledge in the pursuit of active roles in society, from researchers and engineers in academia and industry, to officials in the public sector qualified to lead multifaceted policy making.

The intimate and interactive education we provide takes full advantage of the benefits inherent in small classes. The curriculum has been structured to train students in the communications skills and logical thinking needed to gain true understanding and insight into the nature of phenomena and materials. The curriculum is also focused on fostering professionals who command both a deep knowledge of basic science and a broad perspective on the application of this science.

Anyone who seeks to become a researcher or engineer in the field of basic science must be competent at identifying challenges and solving the problems therein by means of flexible reasoning and logical thinking. To ensure we accept students with these competencies, the Graduate School of Science requires applicants to demonstrate the following three qualities:

1. To think logically, have an inquisitive mind, and be capable of directing their own course of learning.
2. To have the basics in their major field of study and proficiency in comprehending academic papers in English.
3. To have fundamental research skills and a strong interest in their chosen discipline.

In addition to having the qualities above, selected students will also have the following skills and aptitudes:

1. Fundamental academic skills needed for research and education in their chosen discipline.
2. Language abilities sufficient to comprehend academic papers written in English.
3. Motivation and a clear vision to their research, together with the logical thinking necessary for conducting research.
4. Communication skills to engage in discussions with faculty members and fellow students.

〈Doctoral Course〉

The Graduate School of Science aspires to develop professionals capable of applying their advanced research abilities, research experience, and rich academic knowledge in the pursuit of active roles in society, from researchers and engineers in academia and industry, to officials in the public sector qualified to lead multifaceted policy making.

The intimate and interactive education we provide takes full advantage of the benefits inherent in small classes. The curriculum has been structured to train students in the communications skills and logical thinking needed to gain true understanding and insight into the nature of phenomena and materials. The curriculum is also focused on fostering professionals who command both a deep knowledge of basic science and a broad perspective on the application of this science.

Anyone who seeks to become a researcher or engineer in the field of basic science must be competent at identifying challenges and solving the problems therein by means of flexible reasoning and logical thinking. To ensure we accept students with these competencies, the Graduate School of Science requires applicants to demonstrate the following three qualities:

1. To have fundamental academic skills equivalent, at a minimum, to a completed master's degree course at a graduate school, the ability to comprehend English academic papers, and the capacity to express themselves in English.
2. To think logically and be intellectually curious.
3. To have an inquisitive mind and be able to direct their own study of their chosen discipline.
4. To be able to conduct in-depth inquiries about natural phenomena, particularly phenomena related to their chosen discipline, through discussions with faculty members and fellow students.
5. To have research skills equivalent, at a minimum, to a completed master's degree course and be able to devise, plan, and execute their own research in their chosen discipline or related fields.

In addition to having the qualities above, selected students will have the following skills and aptitudes:

1. A high degree of specialized knowledge with a rich educational background in their chosen discipline that is equivalent, at a minimum, to a completed master's degree course at a graduate school.
2. Ability to comprehend English academic papers and express themselves in English.
3. Logical thinking and communication skills to conduct in-depth inquiries about natural phenomena, particularly phenomena related to their chosen discipline, through discussions with faculty members and fellow students.
4. Intellectually curious with research skills equivalent, at a minimum, to a completed master's degree course and the ability to devise, plan, and execute their own research in their chosen discipline or related fields.

Length of Course

The standard duration for the master's course is two years, and three years for the doctoral course.

(1) Enrollment Capacity

Division	Master's Course		Doctoral Course

5. Notes for Applications

- (1) Please complete all the procedures within [4] Application Procedures: 1 Application period: registering applications, payment of examination fees, downloading of an application confirmation slip and mailing of application documents. Please note that the application procedure is not completed merely by online registration and paying the examination fee. The application confirmation slip can be downloaded after the payment of the application fee etc. is completed.
- (2) You cannot change the details in the application once registration has been completed. If you notice a mistake before paying the examination fee, please do not pay the fee, and begin registration again from the beginning. Additionally, you are not permitted to cancel an application once it has been accepted.
- (3) The "Application Receipt Number" listed on the application confirmation slip is not the examinee's number.
- (4) We cannot accept incomplete Applications for Admission. When registering the application, please ensure you include a contact number and email address where you can be reached, as we may contact you if the application is incomplete.
- (5) The examination fee paid by applicants will not be refunded except for the following reasons.

○Reasons for refund

1. Examination fee was paid, but application was not carried out.
2. Application was not accepted due to inadequate documentation.
3. Examination fee was paid repeatedly.
4. The examination fee inadvertently paid by students in the master or professional degree programs of Osaka Metropolitan University, Osaka Prefecture University or Osaka City University.
5. Examination fee was paid by a recipient of scholarship by the Japanese government.

Note: Please contact the Admissions Office within one month after the last day of the application period regarding how to obtain the refund for the above reason of 1, 2, 3 and 4. The refund for the above reason 5 will be made after enrollment.

* For instructions on online submission, please read the details on the application site.

6. Entrance Examination Card

For those who have completed the application procedure, an email will be sent to the email address registered at the time of online application with information regarding the “Entrance Examination Card”. Log in to the portal using the URL in the email and print the Entrance Examination Card on white A4 paper. Please be sure to bring the Card with you on the day of the examination. (the Entrance Examination Card will not be mailed). If you do not receive an email a week before the examination date, or if there are any errors in the information on your Entrance Examination Card, please contact the Admissions Office. (E-mail : gr-nyu-gss[at]omu.ac.jp Please replace [at] with @.)

7. Consideration for examination

In principle, those with disabilities and others who wish to receive consideration for examination and school attendance should submit their application by the following dates.

Period	April 30, 2026
Send to	Admissions Office, Graduate School of Science, Osaka Metropolitan University E-mail : gr-nyu-ask4[at]omu.ac.jp Please replace [at] with @. *If you apply, please let us know the name of the graduate school, major, course and name.

[5] Admission Selection Method

Successful applicants will be selected by a comprehensive judgment of application documents and oral examination. If an applicant fails to take the examination designated for any examination subject, their application will be disqualified from consideration.

1. Document screening

The Graduate Selection Committee will review the submitted applications. The selected applicants will be notified by email in June of the Examinee’s numbers and the date, place, and procedure for their oral examination.

2. Oral examination

The examination day is scheduled for July 4, 2026, and the details will be provided by email.

(Master’s Course)

An oral examination about the applicant’s specialization and research proposal will be conducted, in principle, online.

(Doctoral Course)

An oral examination about the applicant’s research experience, research proposal, and relevant specialization will be conducted, in principle, online.

(Spare day)

July 5, 2026	This is a backup day in case it becomes difficult to conduct the examination on the above date due to unforeseen circumstances such as natural disasters.
--------------	---

*If the entrance examination cannot take place as planned because of unforeseen circumstances, such as a natural disaster, an emergency notice will be posted on the University’s website, so please check the website accordingly.

https://www.omu.ac.jp/sci/en/international_course/admissions/

[6] Announcement of Successful Applicants

1. Announcement of Successful Applicants

Date and time of announcement	Place of publication
July 10, 2026, 10:00	https://www.omu.ac.jp/sci/en/international_course/admissions/

The examinee’s numbers of successful applicants will be posted on the university website, from 10:00 on the day of the announcement to 17:00 on the seventh day from the announcement. Please note that the university will not respond to any inquiries regarding the results by telephone or other means.

2. Letter of Acceptance and Enrollment Procedure Guide

A letter of acceptance and an Enrollment Procedure Guide will be mailed to successful applicants by email on the day of announcement.

(7) Enrollment procedures

In line with the information in the Enrollment Procedure Guide, please carry out the necessary procedures via the portal in accordance with the schedule below. Enrollment activities must be performed using the online system.

*Applicants who applied on the basis of prospective graduation (completion) or similar should submit their certificate of graduation (confirming completion of the referenced course of study) or the equivalent before the deadline in line with the instructions in the Enrollment Procedure Guide.

Online registration period	Portal (Online system)
From 11:00 on July 30, 2026, to 12:00 on August 3, 2026	https://www.omu.ac.jp/admissions/g/exam_info/general/procedure/

[11] Other

1 Handling of Personal Data

In compliance with legislation on the protection of personal data and regulations on the handling and custody of personal data within the University Public Corporation of Osaka, Osaka Metropolitan University aims to minimize data collection. We use and store any data we collect appropriately in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations, etc.

(1) Definition of personal data

Personal data comprise names, addresses, telephone numbers, examinee's numbers, email addresses, dates of birth, results, health information (collected for the purpose of support provision), and other information that could allow an individual to be identified (including items that do not facilitate individual identification on their own but can be easily matched with other information thereby allowing an individual to be conclusively identified).

(2) Use of personal data

- Personal data such as examination results, which are necessary to screen applicants for admission, are utilized in the applicant screening process and enrollment procedure. They are also used in research and surveys related to improving the efficacy of the entrance examination. Examples are follow-up surveys, analyses and surveys of applicant trends, tasks related to supporting students during their tenure at the University (regarding, for example, scholarships and tuition fees, student counselling, and health management), FD*¹ activities including those aimed at improving the quality of education provided, and IR*² activities including those aimed at improving the running of the University. (For those who provide information while enrolling, the disclosed data may also be analyzed in combination with personal data collected after enrollment.)

- The University uses personal data for academic research. However, research outcomes are not published in a form that allows individuals to be identified.

- The University may outsource the computerization, processing, and analysis of data to third parties, as well as the production of statistics and printing and binding. When the University supplies all or some personal data to a business for outsourcing, the business in question is contractually obligated to follow protection and storage stipulations that conform with legislation on personal data protection.

*1 FD means faculty development, which refers to the systematic efforts of faculty to improve and enhance teaching content and methods.

For example: Teaching method workshops and training sessions for newly appointed teaching staff

*2 IR means institutional research. In this context, it refers to the University's collection and analysis of internal data to improve institutional management, provide the highest quality student support and education, and inform the planning, implementation, and testing of other improvement measures.
